The College of New Rochelle was founded in 1904 by the Ursuline Order as the first Catholic college for women in New York State. Today, the College serves a student population of more than 7,000 students. In addition to the School of Arts and Sciences, which remains all-women, the College has three co-educational schools: the Graduate School, established in 1969; the School of New Resources, in 1972; and the School of Nursing, in 1976. The College’s main campus is in New Rochelle, with six branch campuses of the School of New Resources located throughout the New York metropolitan area.

The College offers strong reasons for seeking private support. The importance of the life of the spirit and a reverence for the individual are hallmarks of an Ursuline value-based education. These characteristics are manifest in a College of New Rochelle education today. The College’s primary purpose is the intellectual development of persons through the maintenance of the highest standards of academic excellence and educational growth. From this tradition, the College derives its dedication to the education of women and men in the liberal arts and in professional studies. The College reaches out to those who have not previously had access to higher education and places particular emphasis on the concept of lifelong learning.

Private support allows the College to build upon its commitment and mission as an educational institution by providing academic scholarships, grants, financial aid, and technology enhancements. Similarly, funding is needed for physical plant renovations, special programs, and curriculum development.

Gifts to the College include cash, appreciated securities, capital donations, real estate, charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, endowed funds, and bequests.

When The College of New Rochelle is included in estate plans through a planned gift or a bequest, thoughtful donors reduce their taxes, protect their assets, and generate income. By reaching beyond their own lives to assure opportunities for future generations, generous donors shape the future and make a critical difference in the College’s ability to fulfill its mission.

For additional information about making a gift to The College of New Rochelle, please call the Office of College Advancement at (914) 654-5917.

Last fall at this time I wrote you of the glorious year the College had just experienced, the year of the Church’s Great Jubilee, of our trip to Rome at the invitation of Pope John Paul II, of our preparation for the Middle States Association’s reaccreditation visit, and the renovation of Mother Irene Gill Library. I spoke to you of promise and possibilities that are The College of New Rochelle, and I thanked you for your prayers and words of encouragement, and always, for your great generosity to the College.

Shortly after that letter, our world was changed forever by the violence of September 11. This violence attacked not only symbols of our country, but in the death of thousands of innocent people, attacked our hearts and spirit as well.

The incalculable horror in New York, Washington, and Pennsylvania, left us in sorrow and confusion. Our prayers and sympathies went to the families and loved ones of those who died and to all those touched by this tragedy. Included in the victims were family and close friends of members of our community at The College of New Rochelle.

One of the College’s School of New Resources campuses in New York City—DC37—was located a short block from the World Trade Center. Fortunately, the offices and classrooms of the Campus were not yet open at the time of the disaster. We thank God that our students and staff at the DC37 Campus were spared.

Like the nation as a whole, our College faced a test in the days and months following the attack. None of us had ever imagined that we would be confronted by this kind of evil.

We had to ask ourselves: How do we as College, a center for intellectual discourse, a sacred, safe place for scholarship, friendship, and community, come to terms with the upheaval, the insecurity that had befallen our lives? The answer lives in the College’s recommitment to our core values and mission—now more valuable and needed as ever before.

Goodness in Place of Evil

We began at the College by focusing on and glorying in the heroism, the incredible selflessness and generosity of our brothers and sisters who ran to the tragedies—not away from them—police, fire, medical, and rescue personnel, ordinary citizens. To honor them, this year we dedicated our Founder’s Day to the selflessness and service of these heroines and heroes of September 11.

Receiving honorary degrees from the College for their leadership, personally and on behalf of the many heroes and heroines they led in the New York City Police and Fire Departments, were Commissioners Bernard B. Kerik and Thomas Von Essen, as well as internationally acclaimed American mezzo-soprano opera singer Denyce Graves, whose magnificent voice brought solace to a grieving country at the National Prayer Service in Washington, D.C.

We Began Again

Confronted as we were with senseless actions in this extraordinary time, we, as College and as individuals, recommitted ourselves to civility and respect, to service, and to appreciating and nurturing the goodness around us. I believe, as I know you do, that in the long run it is education that will make a difference in the course of the world and our individual lives.
For many of us, the fall season means harvest, the closing of windows and doors to cooler weather and wintry storms. But for those of us fortunate enough to live and work at a college and this beloved CNR in particular, it means a fresh start, a new beginning, with incoming freshmen, returning students, and the welcoming back to campus of faculty, friends and colleagues. It is a time of hope, of opportunity to learn and engage the mind and fashion a future of unlimited possibility. It is time to learn. And learning, as we know, is the key to deep and lasting change. Learning enables people to see possibilities and potentials within themselves and to envision a desirable, attainable, and sustainable future. Learning generates and continues the processes that constitute the journey of a successful life. Learning allows us to recognize and celebrate the diversity around us and inspires us to understand and respect all individuals. Learning is lifelong. Learning transforms.

WISDOM FOR LIFE
This past year, for the first time in its history, CNR launched a full-scale advertising campaign under the theme “CNR Wisdom for life” that speaks to what we believe: learning transforms. The series of print and radio ads were produced by a New York-based creative team at McCann-Erickson, Inc., thanks to the generosity of Board of Trustees member John J. Dooner Jr., Chairman & CEO, The Interpublic Group of Companies.

The campaign creatively depicts how a liberal arts education enriches life in unexpected ways. The campaign challenges the viewer to see how everyday situations are infused with complexities that can be addressed in an academic setting. We want the ad campaign to encourage a conversation about how education informs issues of a global, familial, and interpersonal nature. The campaign has run in the greater New York and Westchester areas throughout the spring, and again this fall. The McCann-Erickson group succeeded beyond our expectations, and we have had very positive responses from the CNR family and supporters about the effectiveness of the advertising campaign.

LIFTING THE LANGUAGE OF LEARNING
There are, as always at CNR, special moments that illumine the lives of students, moments when the convergence of genius, talent, and in some cases, divine inspiration, lift the language of learning above the mundane, and students and faculty are graced with special insight and understanding, and, we trust, wisdom for life.

This year I remember especially several such moments out of the many that did occur, I know, in our classrooms and on all our campuses. I was privileged to experience several in community gatherings that I would like to share with you.

MOTHER IRENE GILL’S GIFT
One such moment came when listening to Irene Mahoney, OSU, Class of ’41 as she reflected on Mother Irene Gill Memorial Library during the academic convocation for the rededication of the library.

Sister Irene Mahoney recalled herself as a high school student reading a poem and one line in particular that troubled her. It read: “Be good, sweet maid? And let who will be clever.” Being good was all very well, she thought, but wasn’t being clever important, too? Were they mutually exclusive? Couldn’t she be both?

Through the years, Sister Irene Mahoney recalled, “Mother Irene Gill, our library’s namesake, said to me and to thousands of others: “Yes, be good, sweet maidens, but be clever too—be as clever and wise and independent-minded as you can.”

Mother Irene Gill believed that knowledge was a precious gift to be cherished and transmitted. “The life of the intellect was boundless; it was to be curious, dynamic, dissatisfied,” Sister Irene Mahoney reminded us. “It was to be integrated with social consciousness and spiritual awareness. Mother Irene Gill’s dream for her graduates was for them to escape the narrow mold of the Victorian woman and to assume the responsibility of shaping their own futures.”

SAINT ANGELA’S GIFT
In January, the College once again celebrated the Feast of Saint Angela at a wonderful and heartfelt ceremony organized by Campus Ministry with music and speakers reflecting on Saint Angela. One of the speakers, Joan Bristol, our Vice President for Student Services, spoke of how in her many years at CNR, working with the Ursuline Sisters, Angela’s life has had such a great influence on how she has lived her own life.

Joan took Angela’s gift, her powerful legacy that inspires and motivates the CNR community, and identified from it foundational elements by which we might all learn and live:

- belief and devotion to a personal God;
- passion for our work, being the best at what we do;
- devotion to our communities

We will be living Angela’s legacy by praying, responding, and acting directed by our hearts. And our ordinary lives will make a difference. “We can’t live life on automatic pilot,” Joan summed up. “We must live with commitment and purpose. Then we will fashion our own legacy as Angela has fashioned hers. That,” Joan concluded, “is Angela’s gift to us.”

THE GIFT OF COMMUNITY
And finally, at that annual and very special June reunion weekend on our main campus, Alumnae/i College, so many of you came home again to see friends and share once more in the pleasure and joy of being part of the College’s family. This year we asked our renowned expert on grief and bereavement, Dr. Kenneth Doka, Lutheran Minister and Professor of Gerontology at CNR, to speak on what we, as a nation, have experienced since last September.

Dr. Doka told us that he could teach us how to avoid grief. He could teach anyone how to never feel or experience grief again. He had one simple rule: avoid all attachment. Grief, Dr. Doka said, is the price we pay for love. Grief is the price we pay for community.

But for us, it is this community of The College of New Rochelle, with our shared history, that is so necessary in our lives. “It is important to remember,” Dr. Doka said, “our faith communities, our beliefs, our practices, and our rituals. Ritual can be a powerful way of coping, especially with public tragedy. It provides a structure and comfort and makes meaning out of life.”
MIDDLE STATES AFFIRMATION

The strength of this community was demonstrated last March when we welcomed to our campus the evaluating team of the Middle State Association of Colleges and Schools, our accreditation body, for their peer review. This was the concluding segment of nearly two years of self-study.

This self-study is always a wonderful opportunity for the College as a whole, administration, faculty, alumnae/i, and students, to evaluate our success in implementing our mission as an institution of higher learning.

The chair of the visiting team spoke to the College Community about her Team’s positive findings on the academic and financial state of the College. Using phrases such as “well qualified personnel at all levels…ability to accomplish mission…highly qualified faculty…strong leadership within all departments…and…spirit of honesty and trust by all constituencies,” the Chair congratulated the College Community for its “strong institutional integrity” and its “faithfulness to mission.”

In a letter that I wrote later to the College Community, I said that there was no way to do justice to the feelings of affirmation and encouragement which the Middle States’ Team Report conveyed, but that it was important to acknowledge the extremely positive and affirming nature of the report and the remarkable congruence between the College’s Self-Study and the team’s findings.

The Middle States’ visit reminded us that The College of New Rochelle is a treasure. It is so because of the students, faculty, and staff who constitute it and who make it such a vital, valuable, educational institution and community.

NEW COLLEGE DEANS

This past year brought farewells to dear friends who have added to the luster of academic life at our College through their many years of brilliant service, and it was an opportunity to appoint rising stars, gifted new administrators to our important deanships.

At the recommendation of Dr. Joan Bailey, Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs, I appointed Dr. Nancy Brown as our new Dean of the Graduate School, succeeding our dear friend Dr. Laura Ellis, who is retiring after many years of dedicated service to this College. Dr. Brown’s work in education is recognized by her colleagues at the College, as well as the National Membership of the Association for Childhood Education International, who asked her to represent them at the United Nations. In this capacity, two years ago, she attended a UNICEF meeting in Dakar, Senegal for the World Education Forum. Recently Dr. Brown was elected co-chair of the working group on Education for UNICEF at the UN.

Our new Dean of the School of New Resources, Elza Dinwiddie-Boyd, formerly the Campus Director of the Rosa Parks Campus of SNR, has had a long and distinguished history with the College. Author of several books, Dean Dinwiddie-Boyd is a proven administrator as well as gifted teacher.

Recently, she was asked to attend a meeting in Japan on adult learning held at the National Women’s Education Center. As many of you know, SNR was selected by the Council for Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL) as one of six “best practice” institutions for adult learners in the US and Canada. And last year the Council for Adult and Experiential Learning presented to SNR its...
Institutional Service Award in recognition of the School’s pioneering efforts to spread the vision and improve the effectiveness of degree programs for adult learners. [Dean Elza Dinwiddie-Boyd succeeds Dr. Bessie Blake whose 24 years as outstanding citizen of this College has left an indelible mark on the School of New Resources and the College.]

ACADEMIC CONVOCATION AND REDEDICATION
This past April, following a two-year, multi-million dollar renovation, the Mother Irene Gill Library was rededicated. For more than six decades, Gill Library has been at the epicenter of intellectual life and scholarly research at CNR. This historic building is now a cutting edge, 21st century library. Once again, faculty, students, and the surrounding community have the unique opportunity to utilize this congenial environment for lifelong learning.

This renovated library is the result of extraordinary generosity on the part of the College’s alumnae/i and friends, and we were honored to welcome to our College the Pastor of the Church of New York, Edward Cardinal Egan, and to confer on him an honorary degree as spiritual leader of the Archdiocese of New York, for his leadership in support of Catholic education, and the Church’s other great works of charity and, in particular, for his extraordinary pastoral solicitude for the people of New York in time of crisis.

In accepting his degree, Cardinal Egan expressed his delight at being at the College because it permitted him to join in support of our mission. It was a pleasure, he said, to be back in the wonderful atmosphere of higher learning that the new Gill Library epitomizes, and to pay tribute to the Ursulines.

In blessing the library, Cardinal Egan read the prayer given by the Most Reverend Stephen J. Donahue, D.D., then administrator of the Archdiocese of New York, as he officiated in 1938 at the opening of the Gill Library. This was a moving reminder that The College of New Rochelle for almost a century has been linked spiritually and intellectually with the Church of New York.

BUILDING FOR THE NEXT GENERATION
Taking advantage of what is in so many ways a time of strength for the College, we are now engaged in the development of a Center for Wellness. This concept provides for an integrated health, education, and well-being program, housed in a new facility now estimated at $20 million, that can serve as a national model for institutions across our nation. We anticipate funding this ambitious project through our capital campaign and hope to secure support from a variety of partnerships and our legion of friends, so many of whom call us alma mater.

OUR CENTENNIAL
We are well on our way in the planning for the College’s 100th anniversary celebration. September 2003 will begin a year-long celebration that will honor the genius of Mother Irene Gill and her collaborators who began classes as the College of St. Angela, the first Catholic college for women in New York State, on September 12, 1904. We are all so privileged to be part of this truly monumental anniversary. Please plan to join us in the many activities and events which will constitute this glorious celebration. My hope is that the celebration of the Centennial and the remembrance of the profound dedication of those who have gone before us will inspire us all the more in our dedication to the mission that has been handed to us. Blessed by God, and the Ursulines in the gift of the College, we commit ourselves to do what it takes to hand this College healthy and vital to those who will come after us at least 100 years from now.

For being part, an indispensable part, of the history but more importantly the future of this great College, we are extremely grateful. Your support, your prayers, your commitment make it possible for The College of New Rochelle not only to continue but to flourish.

Stephen J. Sweeney
President
The College of New Rochelle
Dr. Ellen Curry Damato is promoted to the newly created position of Executive Vice President with responsibilities for government relations, external and internal communications, and technology.

The College is awarded over $100,000 in grants, a total of $30,000 to the School of New Resources from Con Edison, the Max and Victoria Dreyfus Foundation, and the Charlotte W. Newcombe Foundation to support student scholarships and the Brooklyn Campus ACCESS Center, and $70,000 to the School of Arts & Sciences from the United States Department of Education to support an interdisciplinary project to create new liberal arts courses on topics related to human rights.

Further expanding the College’s outreach efforts, more than two dozen students from New Rochelle’s Isaac E. Young Middle School spend two weeks on campus participating in workshops in the theater arts, TV & video production, and technology as part of GEAR UP (Gaining Early Awareness & Readiness for Undergraduate Programs). Funded by a federal grant, the program aims to familiarize students with a college environment and encourages them to pursue a post-secondary education.

Dr. Kenneth Doka, professor of gerontology, GS, receives prestigious appointments to the Scientific Advisory Council for the Center for the Advancement of Health and to the Site Selection Panel of the Rosalynn Carter Institute.

Loretta Vaughan, Director of the Community Leadership Program, and School of Arts & Sciences student Caroline Zephir travel to South Africa to attend the United Nations World Conference on Racism as members of the International Association Against Torture.
Particularly fitting at this year’s Founder’s Day celebration, the College recognizes the enormous strength derived from a unified community and the incomparable importance of selflessness and service by honoring New York City Police and Fire Commissioners Bernard B. Kerik (pictured far left) and Thomas Von Essen and American mezzo-soprano opera singer Denyce Graves (pictured second from left), whose magnificent voice brought solace at the National Prayer Service in Washington, DC. Among those attending the academic convocation held in Holy Family Chapel were CNR faculty, staff, and students, as well as local dignitaries and New York State Lieutenant Governor Mary O’Connor Donohue ’68 (pictured second from right with CNR President Stephen J. Sweeney).

Displaced because of its location just two blocks from Ground Zero, the DC37 Campus of the School of New Resources is soon up and running in a temporary space at nearby LaSalle Academy, thanks to the generosity of LaSalle’s president, Brother James Martino. (In June 2002, the DC37 Campus returned to its home at 125 Barclay Street.)

As part of its continued efforts to prepare students to understand an increasingly interwoven global community, the School of Arts & Sciences holds a conference for educators to share the results of its impressive human rights project. Funded by a United States Department of Education grant, the interdisciplinary project has encouraged collaboration among faculty on a broad range of courses around the theme of human rights, which cuts across the School of Arts & Sciences curriculum.

Stunned and saddened by the events of September 11, the College Community comes together to pray and comfort each other in the days that follow. A special liturgy is held, an impromptu candlelight vigil offers further opportunity for prayer and reflection, faculty forums are conducted to address concerns from a historical, personal, and psychological level, and scores of CNR faculty, staff, and students donate blood.

Celebrating 25 years of service to the College, President Dr. Stephen J. Sweeney is among the 46 faculty and staff honored at a dinner celebrating the opening of another academic year at the College.
The School of New Resources is recognized for its pioneering efforts on behalf of adult learners with the 2001 Institutional Service Award from the Council for Adult and Experiential Learning.

Dr. Mireya Perez Bustillo, associate professor of Spanish, SAS, coauthors the book The Female Body: Perspectives of Latin American Artists, in which she examines the ways in which Latin women perceive and represent themselves.

The School of Nursing and School of New Resources collaborate to raise health awareness when nursing students visit the Co-op City Campus to present “Healthy Campus 2010,” featuring displays and presentations on numerous health care topics.

Approximately 400 local elementary and middle school students enjoy Props and Paint’s fall production of The Fantastiks during three special “school-time matinees” offered as part of the College’s community outreach program.

Continuing its efforts to advance artistic culture in the community, the School of New Resources John Cardinal O’Connor Campus in the South Bronx welcomes an exhibit of wood carvings by Chief Komolafe entitled “Essence of Life.”

Dr. Susan Canning, associate professor of art, SAS, receives a fellowship from the National Endowment for the Humanities to begin her book on Belgian artist James Ensor.

An exhibit highlighting the work of Austrian born artist Alexander Rutsch, which includes paintings, sculpture, and drawings, opens at the Castle Gallery.
Dr. Stephen J. Sweeney, president, announces the appointments of Dr. Nancy Brown as dean of the Graduate School and Elza Dinwiddie-Boyd as dean of the School of New Resources. Dr. Brown, who taught in the Graduate School as an associate professor of early childhood education for the past ten years, succeeds Dr. Laura Ellis. Elza Dinwiddie-Boyd, who was acting dean for the past year, has devoted herself to opening the doors of higher education to adult learners in various faculty and administrative roles in the School of New Resources for more than 20 years.

The College launches an unprecedented institutional awareness campaign entitled “CNR Wisdom for life,” which includes a redesigned logo and a series of advertisements displayed via national and local newspapers and on subway kiosks throughout New York City, Westchester, and Connecticut and broadcast on select news radio stations.

Resuming its role as the educational heart of the College, Mother Irene Gill Library reopens following a multi-million dollar renovation. With a 200,000-volume research collection and state-of-the-art educational technologies in a setting of inviting elegance, the library is once again home to faculty, staff, and students engaged in serious research or just seeking a quiet place to study or read.

In an annual recognition of the College’s Ursuline heritage, the College Community celebrates the Feast of St. Angela at a wonderful, heartfelt ceremony organized by Campus Ministry. Following an Italian country lunch, representatives from the faculty, staff and student body share their reflections on the impact that St. Angela Merici, foundress of the Ursuline Order, has had on their lives.
In keeping with its commitment to women, the College’s Women’s History Month Celebration draws several noted women speakers to campus, including Karen DeWitt, an award-winning ABC News journalist, and Dr. Linda Gordon, author and professor of history at New York University. In addition, a special encore presentation is held of the well received panel discussion “Women in Conversation Across Faith Traditions,” featuring CNR students representing different faith traditions, including Buddhist, Catholic, Jewish, Muslim, Protestant, and Sikh.

After nearly two years of Self-Study, the College receives high marks from the Middle States Association Evaluation Team, which describes the College as “a significant presence for American higher education in the New York City metropolitan area and region...with a strong institutional integrity and commitment to its stated mission, which is the basis of the quality and vitality of the institution.”

Holocaust survivor Stephan Weinberg shares his personal experience with over 100 faculty, staff, and students in an event sponsored by Campus Ministry, in recognition of the Holocaust Day of Remembrance.

A major event in the life of the College, the formal dedication of the new Mother Irene Gill Library includes an academic convocation at which an honorary degree is presented to Edward Cardinal Egan, Archbishop of New York, and a blessing of the Library by the Cardinal (seen here with CNR President Stephen J. Sweeney), followed by a celebratory lunch for the entire College Community.

Featuring the work of 15 emerging and established Westchester artists, The Westchester Biennial 2002 opens at the Castle Gallery, including paintings, installation, photography, sculpture, mixed media, and video.
As happens every year, June once again draws droves of alumnae for Alumnae/i College to reminisce about their college years and renew friendships forged ten, twenty, even fifty years ago.

CNR alumnae and friends take to the links to benefit the College’s Annual Fund at the First Annual Golf and Tennis Outing, held on a beautiful sunny day at the Pelham Country Club.

A fun-filled day for the entire family, the 30th annual Strawberry Festival features a wealth of activities, including an obstacle course complete with a rock wall, a bounce house, a balloon slide, and a carousel, live radio broadcasts by WKLU and WPLJ, and a wealth of refreshments, including of course strawberries.

The Class of 2002, more than 1,400 strong, have cause to celebrate their accomplishments during Commencement, held on Maura Lawn. During the ceremony, honorary degrees are bestowed on Ambassador M. Patricia Durrant, Permanent Representative of Jamaica to the United Nations, and Lee A. Saunders Sr., Assistant to the President of AFSCME, and an Angela Merici Medal is presented to New York State Lieutenant Governor Mary O’Connor Donohue ’68, who also delivers the keynote address.

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the Development Committee of the Board of Trustees,
I am delighted to report continued fund-raising success because of the generosity and loyalty of thousands of donors to the College’s Annual Fund. We are truly grateful for the many dedicated individuals who actively support CNR in so many ways.

Overall giving to the College remained strong in fiscal year 2001-2002, despite the downturn in the economy and lingering impact of the tragedies last fall. Contributions in excess of $2.8 million made it the College’s second highest Annual Fund on record (after last year’s $3.2 million). Even more impressive is the number of donors which reached 4,800 compared to 4,600 a year ago. These are remarkable achievements and a real testament to the care and concern you, as contributors, express to The College of New Rochelle year after year.

Special gratitude is extended to 407 President’s Circle members for their extraordinary generosity and leadership support on behalf of CNR. And, once again, the foresight and thoughtfulness of CNR alumnae/i and friends, who included the College in their estate planning, accounted for more than $800,000 of the total dollars contributed during the past year. New revenue sources for the year included the Gill Library Bookplate campaign generating 490 donors and $42,000, and the College’s first Golf and Tennis Outing adding $22,000 to the grand total.

This year’s Annual Fund success is a direct result of the collaborative effort between the College and many dedicated volunteers, whose energy and enthusiasm have inspired so many to give so generously. Thank you very much.

As you read through the names of classmates and friends on the following pages, I hope you will realize how grateful the College is to all who are listed. Your continued support is vital and so very appreciated.

Sincerely,

Lillian Brennan Carney ’69

WAYS OF GIVING

Private support has allowed The College of New Rochelle to build upon its commitment as an educational corporation, providing academic and scholarship programs to a diverse student body. The generosity of those who give to the College makes a crucial difference in CNR’s ability to fulfill its mission.

TYPES OF GIFTS

Annual Fund Unrestricted
Unrestricted gifts, given directly to the Annual Fund, are directed by the College’s Trustees to those areas where the need is most pressing (scholarships, faculty salaries, facilities at all campuses).

Annual Fund Restricted
Donations can be made to a particular department or program at the College which supports the donor’s personal interest.

Corporate Matching Gifts
Many corporations and organizations match employee contributions to CNR, doubling or even tripling the gift. The College derives significant benefits from this source of revenue.

Endowed Gifts
A minimum contribution of $100,000 made through either a lifetime gift or by bequest may be used to establish an endowed named fund. The principal is preserved and the income supports the activities of the fund.

Capital Donations
Capital gifts for building renovation or construction continue to provide students and faculty with efficient facilities to support their educational goals.

Naming Opportunities
The College encourages donors to consider recognition through a commemorative gift. Naming opportunities for new construction or for existing facilities are available and negotiable.

ASSETS TO GIVE

Cash/Credit Card
A gift of cash is the simplest and most immediate way to give to The College of New Rochelle. Cash gifts may be pledged over the course of one or more years. Monthly or quarterly pledge payments enable some donors to make a larger gift to CNR.

Appreciated Securities
Giving appreciated assets such as stocks, bonds and mutual funds that you have owned longer than one year can allow you to bypass capital gains tax that would be due on a sale of the assets. This can reduce the after-tax cost of your gift by as much as one-third. Of course, your tax rate determines how much you save – the higher your rate, the more you save from each dollar donated. Please contact the Director of Annual Giving at 914-654-5917 for securities transfer instructions.

Real Estate
In some cases, property can be given outright to support CNR, and the donor receives a charitable income tax deduction for the fair market value of the property. Gifts of real estate can also be used to fund a life income gift.

LIFE INCOME GIFTS

Life income arrangements vary, but most options offer the following financial benefits:

- an income for life to the donor and a second beneficiary;
- a charitable income tax deduction;
- a higher rate of return than many current investments;
- a reduction or avoidance of capital gains taxes; and
- savings on estate and gift taxes; and professional investment management.

Some life income methods of giving are:

Charitable Gift Annuities
Charitable gift annuities provide the donor with a fixed, high rate of return. Rates are highest for older donors. Gift annuities at CNR begin at $25,000 and 70 years of age.

Charitable Remainder Trusts
Charitable remainder trusts are personalized management plans. Donors select a payout rate, usually 5-7%, that pays an income to them annually. The rate is based on a fixed amount of the trust’s assets (annuity trust), or is revalued annually based on the principal in the trust that year (unitrust). Trusts begin at $100,000.

Bequests
For many donors, a gift made through a will is the best way to make a substantial contribution to the College. Donors can leave specific dollar amounts or a percentage of their estate. Through a bequest, a donor can make a gift without depleting current assets, and eliminate or reduce federal estate taxes.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

For additional information about making a gift to The College of New Rochelle, please call Marilyn Saulle, Director of Annual Giving, at 914-654-5917 or Carole Weaver, Major Gifts Officer, at 914-654-5914. You can also visit our website and print out an Annual Fund pledge form at www.cnr.edu.

The purpose of this information is to provide accurate information of a general character only. For advice and assistance in specific cases, the services of an attorney or other professional advisor should be obtained. Watch for tax revisions. State laws govern wills, trusts, and charitable gifts made in a contractual agreement. Advice from legal counsel should be sought when considering these types of gifts.
EXTRAORDINARY GIVING

We proudly list those individuals, corporations, and foundations who have made cumulative gifts of $100,000 or more to The College of New Rochelle. It is with gratitude that we acknowledge this distinguished group of graduates and friends. This public expression of admiration is a small token of our deepest appreciation for the exceptional gifts they have shared with the College throughout the years.

GILL LIBRARY COMMEMORATIVE BOOKPLATE PROGRAM

On April 11, 2002 the rededication of the newly renovated Mother Irene Gill Library took place. In celebration of this exceptional facility, and in recognition of the central role it plays in educating all of the College’s students, a special commemorative bookplate solicitation was conducted.

More than 490 donors contributed $42,000 for 700 bookplates commemorating loved ones and friends, and enabling Gill Library to enhance its collections. Special thanks to all who donated to this worthy cause.

If you would like more information on becoming a bookplate donor, please contact Marilyn Saulle at (914) 654-5917 (email msaulle@cnr.edu).

2002 Annual Report / The College of New Rochelle

It doesn’t take a millionaire…
…to make a difference for future generations.

Bequests, as well as other forms of life income and planned giving arrangements, have provided a financial lifeline to the future of The College of New Rochelle.

Over the last decade, bequests and planned gifts totaling more than $8 million have been given to The College of New Rochelle. This vital source of support provides revenue for scholarships and the enhancement of academic programs. Gifts of all sizes ($3,000 to more than $2 million) comprise this significant source of revenue, making a lasting difference in the lives of CNR students and providing a legacy of loyalty and devotion to the College.

Won’t you join the hundreds of alumnae/i and friends who have already included The College of New Rochelle in their estate planning through bequests, annuities, and trusts?

Remember… no matter what the size of your gift, you can make a difference.

Dr. Carole Weaver, Major Gifts Officer, will be glad to send you one of these easy-to-understand brochures. Carole is also available to talk to you about our gift annuity program and how it can benefit you as well as future CNR students. Call 914-654-5914, or e-mail cweaver@cnr.edu.
